MABA has teamed up with The Asmark Institute to provide a means for MABA members to comply with EPA, OSHA and DOT regulations. Asmark addresses the regulatory requirements in a common sense manner that produces positive results and yields peace of mind. For information, email MABA at mabamgea@bresnan.net or go to www.asmark.org.

Join the more than 100 individuals in Montana and Wyoming who are Rocky Mountain Certified Crop Advisers.

MABA Presidential Award Winners

The MABA Presidential Award is reserved for those who perform truly outstanding service to the association and you as members.

Rob Brattain, Great Falls, whose leadership as MABA president and Legislative Committee chair led to the passage of the national landmark Montana Ag Chemical Groundwater Protection Act. The Act became national model legislation and was subsequently enacted in numerous other states.

Dr. Jeff Jacobsen, Bozeman, is the reason we have the Certified Crop Adviser program in Montana. While some university types view themselves as ivory tower, Jeff is not one of those. He originated "Fertilizer Facts" which has been the most requested publication from MSU's Land Resources & Environmental Sciences Dept. He developed the state CCA exam and has served as chair of the International CCA board. In the spring of 2004 Jeff was named the Montana State University Dean of the College of Agriculture and Director of the Experiment Stations.

Barry Beaudoin, a past president, spent endless hours bringing the industry's plastic pesticide recycling program to Montana as chair of that committee. It took numerous meetings with the Dept. of Agriculture and what is now Crop Life America to get the program instituted. His efforts also led to the state's pesticide recycling program currently operated each year by the Montana Dept. of Agriculture and underwritten by our members..

Gary Gingery, Helena, spent the bulk of his professional career as Montana's chief pesticide regulator.. He worked with us to educate members and help us comply with regulations—regulations intended to be effective for the environment and health, yet not unrealistic. He also was essential in developing the Montana's landmark Ag Chem Groundwater Protection Act and the Pesticide Recycling Program.

Chuck Gatzemeier, Cut Bank, whose leadership brought Professional Applicator training to Montana to improve the competence of those applying product in the state. Chuck, a past president, also has been elected and reelected to the International CCA board and has taken the time to travel to numerous national meetings to improve the knowledge & professionalism of those providing agronomic advice to growers.

Mike Thomas, Great Falls, was MABA's first president and a signer of the original MABA articles of incorporation. He brought Wilbur Ellis to Montana and has been a constant innovator. Currently he serves as a Wilbur Ellis vice president. He has supported numerous Wilbur Ellis employees' participation in MABA and stands by to help however he can. His vision helped make MABA what it is today.

Mike King, Billings, is truly Mr. Crop Biotech in Montana. A past president, he served as the first chair of MABA's Biotechnology Committee for several years and was instrumental in defeating numerous anti-biotechnology pieces of legislation over ten years of extremists efforts to limit opportunities for our members and Montana growers.
